

Silly Story

How to play: Get a partner. One player, the reader, asks the other player, the writer, to call out a word – a noun, verb, adjective or whatever the space calls for –and fill in the blank spaces in the story. The result is a very silly story that the reader reads aloud for all to enjoy!

Reminder:

Noun - a person, place or thing (example: bus, baby, bathtub)

Plural Noun - more than one (example: buses, babies, bathtubs)

Verb - an action word (example: run, laugh, swim)

Verb past tense - an action that you did (example: ran, laughed, swam) adjective - describes something or someone (example: messy, big, soft)

For Your Enjoyment – Do Not Return To School _____ and I went on a road trip. We _____ in the name verb past tense car at _____ sharp. I made sure to _____ the map. Our time verb

first stop was a zoo in _____. We saw several _____ name of state noun plural swimming in a pond and eating _____ fish. It smelled _____! adjective adjective

Our next stop was an amusement park in _____. We _____ name of state verb past on a(n) _____ rollercoaster and then rested our _____ adjective body part (plural) on _____ bumper cars. It was hot and we ate _____ adjective A number adjective slice(s) of _____. Our last stop was a(n) _____ museum in type of food adjective

_____. We saw a(n) _____ _____ and learned Name of state adjective noun

About _____. I bought a _____ to remember this _____-hour noun noun a number trip. I can't wait to _____ again next year!

Verb

Stratford's Reading Road Trip

PARP 2008